

INFANT MUSIC WORKSHOPS

During the Summer term many infant workshops took place across South Gloucestershire. Different clusters of schools were involved in workshops based on The Wild West, The Seaside, Colours and Round the World.

The workshops included dancing, artwork, poetry, drama, ICT, Design and Technology and lots of singing and playing percussion instruments!

Pupils from Christchurch Infants made wigwams and totem poles whilst pupils from St. Marys Catholic school each made a hobby horse!

The pupils in the Stoke Gifford cluster went round the world with the aid of slide show devised by Captain Andrew Cleaver.

The children were given an opportunity to comment on the workshops. Their comments reveal lots of information about their understanding of musical terms and different interests!
