

BOCCIA AND NEW AGE KURLING FESTIVAL

Following training sessions for Boccia, pupils from Years 3 and 4 were invited to a Boccia and New Age Kurling Festival at King Edmund School on November 9th. With great excitement pupils from Abbotswood, Wellesley, St Paul's and St Barnabus (Warmley) arrived at the sports hall keen to play new games against pupils from other schools.

Forty children participated in the event with CSLA students from King Edmund School helping to officiate the games.

The older students had also enjoyed a training session where they were able to learn both Boccia and New Age Kurling they had great fun playing against each other with the excuse they needed to practice their skills of bowling before they could help the younger pupils.

If noise was anything to go by the pupils certainly had fun throughout the evening and showed fine skills in both bowling and rolling the stone in Kurling.

Many thanks to Staff at King Edmund for their support especially Emily Parks for assisting during the event.
